Reflecting on how your experience in London will impact your life back home

A presentation and discussion with the Rev. Dr. Sam Wells

Vicar of St. Martin in the Fields, London

Former Dean of the Chapel at Duke University

Fall '12 students said:

"I found it very interesting and helpful, and Sam Wells was very insightful."

"I thoroughly enjoyed Reverend Dr. Wells' talk. It was insightful and well formed, and it presented ideas that were certainly challenging to my personal point of view."

"It was cool to hear about how our perspective of the USA will change once we go back and I look forward to using what I have experienced here to view my life at home in a different way."

Followed by hors d'oeuvres, canapés and wine reception
