PROGRAM DESCRIPTION
This three-week, three-credit program at Fundação Getulio Vargas in São Paulo, Brazil, offers students up-close contact with Brazilian culture and its connection to Brazilian business.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS
- Spend three weeks in São Paulo, a city that has the largest concentration of businesses in South America
- In-depth company visits
- Visit to NGO Meninos do Morumbi (includes typical Brazilian lunch and samba experience)
- Networking with Notre Dame alumni in Brazil

COURSE DESCRIPTION
Doing Business in Brazil (taught in English) aims to consolidate the connections between academic and corporate environments. The course will enhance awareness of the Brazilian culture and way of doing business. It also has the purpose of stimulating the production of new ideas and encouraging students to review their personal purposes and values. Subject areas covered will include social, political, and economic dimensions as well as politics, finance and banking, and marketing.

HOST UNIVERSITY
Fundação Getulio Vargas (FGV) is the top-ranked business school in Brazil and is recognized as one of the leading business schools and an important think tank in South America. One quarter of top executives in Brazil are FGV alumni.
